

Jay Johnston Biography

Jay Johnston is Executive Counsel for Travelers and is based in St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. Johnston advises various business units with respect to the development of various insurance products with a focus on first-party property coverage. Prior to moving into an in-house counsel role in 2003, Mr. Johnston was an associate in the business litigation practice group of Oppenheimer, Wolff & Donnelly in Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he represented both insurers and policyholders in coverage litigation. Mr. Johnston earned his J.D. in 2000 from William Mitchell College of Law (now Mitchell Hamline College of Law) in St. Paul, Minnesota, where also served as an adjunct professor from 2015-2020.