

SPECIALIZATION:

John began his career in forensic accounting in 2005 and has over sixteen year of experience with commercial insurance related claims with a focus on major loss, business income, extra expense, and property damage complex claims from domestic catastrophe events from hurricane Katrina, Super Storm Sandy, Hurricane Irma, the California wild fires, and most recently Hurricane Laura in 2020. John also spent six months working on analyzing large loss business income claims after the 2010 earthquakes in the South Island city of Christchurch, New Zealand.

John's range of expertise includes everything from small retail business income losses to complex manufacturing, builders risk, agricultural, fidelity, construction, inventory, subrogation, long tail reinsurance litigation support, multi-carrier fee fund apportionment and administration, large scale mitigation vendor audits, in-house vendor audits, municipality catastrophe claims, energy company claims, hospitality, non-profits, food service storage warehouse and supermarket facility claims in excess of $110m.