

Kathleen Devane-Senior Claims Adjuster

Allianz Global Corp & Specialty

Kathleen received a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Management from New York Institute of Technology in 1988 and started her adjusting career as a claims adjuster trainee that same year handling Ocean Marine Cargo Claims, Hull, P & I and Yacht claims at Wm. H McGee & Co.

Since that time, she has been promoted several times and currently holds the position of Senior Claims Adjuster at Allianz Global Corp & Specialty handling claims of dollar values in excess of $1,000,000. She has handled complex claims resulting from natural disasters such as hurricanes and Super Storm Sandy as well as cargo damage and warehouse claims. She is currently handling the General Average on the “Ever Given” which is thought to be the largest G/A ever declared. She has participated in a mentoring group with the head of Global Claims for Allianz. She has taught Ocean Marine Insurance classes at AIMU (American Institute of Marine Underwriters) and is a previous presenter at PLRB. She holds State Adjusters’ Licenses in 14 US States.

A native New Yorker, Kathleen enjoys overseas travel and volunteers locally in her hometown of Astoria, NY.
