

John Eggum Speaker Bio

John Eggum is a partner and shareholder at Foran Glennon, a 60 lawyer law firm headquartered in Chicago, with offices spanning from London to Los Angeles. He litigates property insurance claims around the country, including in lawsuits where bad faith and claim handling disputes are at issue.

John is a frequent speaker at insurance industry events, including on topics of appraisal, causation, and claim handling practices. He's been recognized by various organizations for his work and leadership in the legal and insurance industries, including by The American Lawyer, which named him a Midwest Trailblazer, the Illinois Association of Defense Trial Lawyers, the Chicago Law Bulletin and Chicago Lawyer, Superlawyers, and Leading Lawyers.

John is a member of the Illinois bar. His law degree was obtained, with distinction, from The University of Iowa College of Law, as were his two undergraduate degrees, in finance and political science. Following law school, he served as the law clerk to the Hon. Bruce A. Markell in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada, in Las Vegas.

John is also active in his community, serving as the chairman of the Housing Commission for Arlington Heights, Illinois.
