

Todd Van Sant – Large Loss Estimator and Trainer

Todd is an expert in estimating large loss construction. He oversees the various complex commercial estimating requirements across multiple verticals including retail, multifamily, institutional, and manufacturing. Todd has been trained as a Certified Xactimate Trainer since 2012. In his role, Todd's involvement in the scope of the work process ensures projects are completed safely, successfully and within budget. From numerous cost-related responsibilities to working with appropriate government agencies to certify project compliance, Todd's role is vital as a trusted service provider to get companies back to business and back to life. Todd's expertise spans nearly 20 years and includes restoration projects from every major hurricane since Katrina as well as multiple tornados, floods, fires, and other disasters.